TAFT REVIEWS GREAT FLEET

SEES MIGHTY FORCE OF SHIPS ASSEMBLED IN NEW YORK.

President Profoundly Impressed With Pageant Which Was Most Brilliant in Country's History—Favors Peace But Sees Need For Keeping Navy Up to Top Notch.

New York, Nov. 2.—Fresh from his cross continent tour of 13,000 miles, during which he received senatorial pledges which seem to indicate the early ratification of the treaties of peace and arbitration which Great Britain and France, President Taft to day from wind swept bridge of the historic little coiled yacht Mayflower, reviewed the mightiest line of fighting craft ever assembled under the American flag.

The president had indicated in all speeches in advocacy of the treaties of peace that he entertained no fond delusion that war, by convention, could immediately be made a thing of the past. He declared that the treaties were a step in the right direction; that the armed camps of Europe were looking to the United States to lead in what might prove to be a great world movement toward goal of peace, but that for long time to come, the suggestion of disarmament would have no force.

Favors More Ships.

To day Mr. Taft let it be known that he would continue to urge upon congress the necessity of building at least two great super-dreadnaughts a year, until the Panama canal is in actual operation. The canal, he declared would double the efficiency of the navy from that time on, one battleship a year might suffice to keep the American navy in the forefront of the world's military powers.

Countless thousands of people joined with the president in paying tribute to the five score of vessels which lay at anchor in the Hudson. Twenty four first class battleships were in the line grimly in gray in their preparedness for action and with ammunition rooms fairly bursting under the weight of millions of pounds of powder and shell. Surrounding this burly column—sullen in its self-reliance—were armored cruisers, yielding but little in power and weight of their more formidable sisters of the battle class; scout cruisers, slender, but fast; motor like destroyers; green wasps of the sea; like torpedo boats that seemed spider like in their steel; submarines barely visible above the water line and the rank of file of auxiliary vessels that serve as tenders to the fleet. There were ninety-nine in all the original plan of having 120 ships in line having been curtailed by the absence of three torpedo boats.

An Impressive Scene.

As if the exhibition of preparedness and power, pictured in the anchored armada, were not all sufficient, twenty-two of the battleships toward the close of the day picked up their anchors, turned in the teeth of the gale, and swept proudly out to sea. The president watched the passing pageant in impressed silence. As the big fighting ships steamed by, with form created waves spreading from their armored bows and with clouds of black smoke swirling from their funnels, the sun was near its setting and they spoke with crashing guns the last of a long series of salutes, which had begun with the early morning and had been all but incessant throughout the day.

The review had been the most brilliant in the history of the country, and with its conclusion the great fleet had dispersed, the various ships wending their way to home stations to await the call to winter maneuvers in southern waters.

Marine Amphitheatre.

The setting for the review was a splendid natural marine amphitheatre. The fleet lay on the broad bosom of the Hudson, walled in on either side by the towering buildings. The day was one of changing sunshine and shadow.

In the dazzling sunshine the fleet flags were whipped into a riotous fury. One of the cloud banks brought a flurry of snow with it, the first of the season here, but neither the chill blasts nor the constantly recurring threat of storm deterred the spectators who stretched for miles along the river banks and crowded the decks of excursion steamers circling about the warship anchorage.

One Fatality.

There was one fatality during the day. Gustav Frey, a seaman on the battleship New Jersey, fell overboard and drowned. The news had not reached the president when he left tonight for Hot Springs, Va., to spend four days in recreation before resuming the final stage of the long trip to Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee.

The president arrived from the west shortly after 7 o'clock this morning and went at once aboard the Mayflower, where later he was joined by the secretary of the navy, Mr. Meyer, and the latter's staff, Rear-admirals Walnright, Potter and Vreeland; Captains Fletcher and Pota, and Commander Philip Andrews.

The president was attended by Major Butt and two naval aides. Secretary Hilles was also included in the party and at the last minute there was a slight relaxation in the official character of the review which permitted Mr. Taft to entertain on board, his brother, Henry W. Taft, and the latter's wife.

Ceremonies Begin.

The ceremonies formally began at 9:30 o'clock, when the president's flag, amid a roar of guns from every vessel in the fleet, was broken from the mainmast of the Mayflower. The little yacht by this time had moved up close to the head of the seven mile column of battleships and had cast anchor. Immediately the admirals of the fleet set out in launches to pay their respects to the commander-in-chief of the army and the navy. Mr. Taft had a personal word of greeting for each.

The wide river reached had been lashed into white-capped waves when President Taft set out for the flagship Connecticut to pay the courtesies of the commanding officers. The power launch in which he rode bobbed about perilously in the rough water, but Mr. Taft did not mind the tossing. The Mayflower's guns bombed a salute as the president left the yacht and when his flag temporarily was hoisted on the Connecticut the other vessels of the fleet took up the noisy token of tribute and respected and for the second time their guns spoke in unison.

When the president returned to the Mayflower and embarked in the forward bridge, the wind fairly was howling in the rigging. He was well muffled up in a great coat and needed every ounce of its warmth. His silk hat constantly was in danger of being carried away, but Mr. Taft held on to it grimly until the Mayflower had begun to pass the ships of the fleet. Then Mr. Taft juffed his hat in answer to the strains of the national anthem, which came from each vessel, and the rigors of naval formality scarce permitted him to do it again for a full hour and a half.

Torpedo Boats Attend Mayflower.

The little Mayflower as she moved in and out among the gray clad men-of-war was attended by two, low-raked little torpedo boats. A round trip of the fleet completed, the Mayflower came again to anchor off West Twenty-third street, to permit the president to further view the ships after they had gotten under way.

The ships had been pointed up stream all morning in the swing of an obbing tide. It was intended that they should not get under way until the flow had changed, and their bows had been pointed toward the wider waters of the lower bay. This would have made maneuvering the many vessels in the close confines of the river a comparatively easy task.

For more than one hour past the anchored time the president waited for the tide to change and for the advance of the moving fleet. But under the influence of the gale blowing out of the harbor, the ebbs continued undiminished. The navy regulations do not permit the firing salutes after sundown. It seemed to day that nature was retaliating for this liberty with her time table and by no official order could the drift of the tide be turned.

Maneuvers Unparalleled.

Giving up hope at last for an early change in conditions, Rear Admiral O'Brien, in command of the fleet, flashed orders to get under way. The gay dressing lines which flapped and fluttered throughout the day came tumbling to the decks and the military masts and arms of battleships stood out again in all their bare gauntness. The exhibition of seamanship involved in turning the massive vessels practically in their own length against wind and tide, has never been equalled in the navy and called out great praise from the president and the naval officials aboard. The maneuver successfully completed, the fleet began to move.

As the leading vessels plied up speed the water could be seen to whiten at their bows, and when they passed the Mayflower they were bowling along at fine speed. The steaming column flung further than the eye could reach in the haze of the late afternoon presented more fitting picture to close the notable day.

The throbbing ships, only 400 yards apart, however, raised neither terrors nor paramount right of way in the judgment of a number of ferry boat captains in the harbor, who, from time to time, drove their unsuspecting crafts across the bows of an oncoming iron clad. Happily there were no collisions.

Taft Issues Statement.

Following the review President Taft issued the following statement: "Those who saw the fighting fleet could not fail to be struck with its preparedness and with its high military efficiency, and must have been proud of its personnel.

"The demonstration has had an educational value in arousing patriotism, in increasing the general knowledge of and interest in the navy in illustrating the ability to mobilize on short notice, and in showing the skill of the officers who turned the fleet in the narrow river and sent it to sea at the rate of 11 knots per hour.

Lack Destroyers.

"The equipment of the fleet is excellent, except as to the number of destroyers and of cruisers and colliers in proportion to the whole number. We had in the fleet to day 22 destroyers, and to meet the full requirements there should have been approximately one hundred destroyers, or an average of four to each battleship. It is true that there has been a marked improvement in the type of colliers and fast cruisers in the navy, but it is also true that we have not a sufficient number.

"In addition to building great battleships, other nations are building enormous high speed cruisers—25 knots per hour—and it is believed that our navy should be similarly equipped. Unless a navy is maintained at the highest possible state of efficiency it is a needless extravagance.

Worthy Title of Admiral.

"I am more than ever convinced of the desirability of conferring upon the commanding officer of our fleet the title of admiral, or at least of vice admiral. At present the ranking officer is rear admiral and this title

WABASH IMPLICATED

RAILROAD SYSTEM MAY FEEL SHOPMEN STRIKE.

Representatives of Federation Seek Increase in Wage of Four Cents Per Hour—Enforcement of Ago Limit Also Grievance.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—That the Wabash railroad may be drawn into the number of railroad systems with strikes of shopmen on their hands, was made known today when officials of the road have occupied most of the last week at Springfield, Ill.

The discussion was suspended today after an exchange of letters defining the positions of the railroad and the men.

Another conference is scheduled for Monday.

The men's demand is for a flat wage increase of four cents an hour. They assert will do no more than bring the rate of pay on the Wabash up to that of other roads.

The letter of the company in reply to the formal demand states that the present is an inopportune time for the men to ask for a wage increase, and that it cannot be granted.

According to the representatives of the system federation the men will strike unless the increase is given them. The system federation has been recognized by the Wabash officials for several years.

Enforcement of an age limit for new employees of the Rock Island railroad is one of the grievances which the men allege in their demands upon the officials of the railway which is scheduled for a hearing by officers of the company Monday or Tuesday. In their complaint it was learned today that the men assert that they are required to give their ages with other personal particulars when applying for employment and that no man over 45 years old is taken on. That this rule is abolished is made prominent in the men's demands.

The men do not say that employees over 45 years old are dropped but that new men of that age will not be employed.

NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—No developments of more than trivial nature marked the close of the day's investigation into the mysterious death of Patrolman Arthur Bissonette a week ago, and the deaths of eight other relatives or friends of Mrs. Louise Vermilya, whom the police have had under surveillance for several days.

Toxicologists Haines was expected to deliver to Coroner Hoffman tomorrow a report on his examination of the viscera of the dead policeman, and upon the result of this examination hangs much of future of the case.

THIRD VENUE ENDED.

Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 2.—Barring one man, the third venue of prospective jurors was exhausted at the close of court tonight in the McNamara murder case. Altogether, 207 veniremen have been drawn. Of these, ten sat in the jury box tonight, having been accepted as to cause by both sides—a gain of one man since yesterday's session in which no talemans was passed.

Counsel for both prosecution and defense in the trial of James B. McNamara made predictions that the entire twelve men might be accepted by tomorrow night if there were no hitch in getting more veniremen to examine.

THOUSANDS WITNESS WARSHIPS

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 2.—Rear Admiral Chauncey Thomas, commanding the Pacific fleet, Rear Admiral W. H. Sutherland, in command of the second division and 120 officers of the Pacific fleet now anchored in Los Angeles harbor were the guests of the city to day.

During the day the jockies of the fleet were given the freedom of the beach resorts.

Thousands of persons gathered to night on the bluffs overlooking the harbor to witness the electric display on the warships.

TREATY COMPLETED.

Berlin, Nov. 2.—The German foreign ministers, Herr Von Kiderlin-Waechter, and the French Ambassador to Germany, M. Cambon, to day initiated the Congo portion of the Moroccan treaty. This means that the treaty is now complete and it is semi-officially announced that the entire document will be signed November 4.

DENKEN NAMES COMMISSION.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 2.—Governor Deneen to day named Captain L. J. Dawdy, Peoria, William A. Payton, Danville and Dr. J. B. Savage of Quincy as members of a commission to have charge of the erection of a soldier monument on the battlefield of Kennesaw Mountain, Georgia.

HOTEL OWNER KIDNAPED.

Mexico City, Nov. 2.—Unable to comply with the demands of a band of Zapatistas for money, H. L. Hall, an American, the owner of a large hotel in Cuernavaca, and well known throughout the republic, yesterday was kidnaped, according to news reaching the capital to night. Federal troops have been sent out to rescue him.

Is not commensurate with the importance of the fleet. At the review of the general fleet at Kiel, a smaller number of ships was under the command of a full admiral; two squadrons were commanded by vice-admirals and each of four divisions was commanded by a rear admiral.

AGAINST CIGARETTES

W. C. T. U. Worker Asks Mayor Seidel Why Law Is Not Enforced.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 2.—"Why can't the anti-cigarette law be enforced in Milwaukee?" demanded Mrs. H. B. Ingalls of St. Louis, national superintendent of the department of Anti-narcotics, W. C. T. U., of Mayor Seidel to day.

"It can be enforced," responded the mayor. Whereupon Mrs. Ingalls tossed a package of cigarettes on the mayor's table, declaring that she had no difficulty in purchasing them in a cigar store herself.

After explaining why the anti-cigarette law had not been enforced, Mrs. Ingalls was referred to the chief of police. He told Mrs. Ingalls, and two of the other temperance workers that his officers would look after any violations of the law.

"Although there is some sort of an anti-cigarette law in every state in the Union the law is not being enforced in many states," said Mrs. Ingalls.

She declared that Milwaukee or Wisconsin were no more slack than other cities and states, and she merely tripped across a violation and proceeded to expose it.

The most important report to come before the National W. C. T. U. convention on its closing day was that from the department of peace and international arbitration by Mrs. Hannah J. Bailey of Maine.

The convention adjourned sine die tonight to meet in Portland, Oregon next year.

CAUSE MANY DEATHS.

Pneumonia Worst Disease in Illinois For Six Months Ending July 1.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 2.—According to a statement issued today by the state board of health, pneumonia caused the greatest percentage of the total number of deaths in Illinois for the six months ending July 1, 1911. The percentage of deaths due to pneumonia is 14.6 per 1,000. A total of 15,192 deaths is reported from the state outside of Cook county following pneumonia, diseases of the circulatory system claim the greatest number of deaths.

Tuberculosis of the lungs leads in the list of communicable diseases, with 62.8; influenza, 4; typhoid fever, 13.8; measles, 11.7; diphtheria, 11; whooping cough, 9; and scarlet fever, 7.

SPEECH EVERY HOUR.

Tekamah, Neb., Nov. 2.—Speaker Champ Clark averaged a speech an hour during his whirlwind trip through the Third Nebraska district to day and was greeted by good crowds at every place he was scheduled to speak.

Speaker Clark admitted that he was intensely interested in returning a Democrat from the only district in which there had been a Democratic congressman. He said the entire country would be interested in the election. His principal theme was the tariff and he reviewed generally the work of the last congress in tariff revision.

IOWA RETAIL MERCHANTS.

Dubuque, Ia., Nov. 2.—The Iowa State Federation of Retail Merchants was organized today by 250 retail merchants from all parts of the state. The following directors were elected: J. J. Ludescher, Dubuque; George W. Dunlavy, Clinton; Theodore Buechele, Dubuque; R. Jacobson, McGregor; Charles Falkensheimer, Dubuque; Andrew O'Brien, Independence; L. S. Hopkin, Dubuque; G. D. Rose, Dubuque; Paul Davis, Waterloo; T. W. Prater, Dubuque; D. W. Vreem, Mason City. These directors will meet at Mason City Nov. 8th, to choose a full set of officers.

TO ASK RESIGNATION.

Boston, November 2.—The finance committee of the Immanuel Baptist Church of Cambridge had before it, informally, to night the resignation of its pastor, the Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson, who is under indictment on a charge of murdering Mrs. Avis Linnell.

Under the church rules the resignation will have to be read from the pulpit on two successive Sundays and then be acted upon at a special meeting of the congregation.

Next Monday Richeson will be arraigned in the superior criminal court to plead his indictment and then will be remanded to jail without bail, until the date for his trial is fixed.

FAVORS MILITARY TRAINING.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Secretary of War Stimson, strongly favors military training in the public schools of the country, especially training in rifle shooting. He so declared himself to day, when he presented the prizes and trophies to high school boys in this city, winners in the school boys rifle shooting tournament, recently held at the United States marine corps rifle range.

LOOT MONEY FOUND.

Westminster, B. C., Nov. 2.—Twenty-five thousand dollars in gold and bank notes, identified as part of the loot stolen from the local branch of the bank of Montreal September 15, was found by a workman to day under a sidewalk a few blocks from the scene of the robbery. This is the first of the $335,000 loot recovered. None of the bank robbers has been captured.

AGAINST STRIKING DRIVERS.

London, Nov. 2.—The London Taxi-Cab companies to day decided to close their garages and lock out the striking drivers until satisfactory arrangements are reached.

HEALY MAKES CHARGE

SAYS WITNESSES HAVE AGREED ON TESTIMONY.

Effort is Made to Discredit Witnesses Who Told of Blair's Display of Big Bills—Lee O'Neil Browne Begins Story.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Attorney John J. Healy, of counsel for the committee of United States senators, intimated today that certain witnesses were consulting with each other and framing testimony to conceal facts in the inquiry.

This was disclosed during the examination of Fred S. Krickhaus of Mount Vernon, Ill.

Attorney Healy developed that Krickhaus had purposely misled Attorney John H. Marble of counsel for the committee, by withholding a hotel register as a means of aiding former State Representative William C. Blair, also of Mount Vernon.

Krickhaus was manager of a hotel at Centralia, Ill., at the time the now famous baseball game took place there in July, 1909. Blair was charged with exhibiting eleven $100 bills there on that occasion.

Hotel Manager on Stand.

Krickhaus today declared that A. C. Tanner, the man who testified to seeing the $100 bills, was intoxicated on the day of the ball game. Today was the first time that anything of this character has been said about Mr. Tanner.

Krickhaus also swore that Blair's "roll" of money on this occasion was so small that Krickhaus succeeded in jamming the money into Blair's watch pocket.

Under interrogation by counsel for the committee Krickhaus admitted that he had talked with Blair and Blair's son and son-in-law regarding the Lorimer inquiry, but denied that he had rehearsed the testimony with them.

George W. Meyers, a former state representative, the first witness at the hearing today, testified that he was asked to vote for Lorimer but refused.

"There are a lot of good state jobs and plenty of the ready necessary behind Lorimer," he said.

Meyers said also that Speaker Shurtliff asked him to vote for Lorimer.

When Meyers' examination was concluded, Fred S. Krickhaus of Mt. Vernon, Ill., was called.

Krickhaus testified that he was conducting a hotel at Centralia, Ill., in 1909, at the time former State Representative William C. Blair attended a baseball game in that city.

The witness said he cared for Blair's money for a short time on that day. Krickhaus said he did not count the money and did not ascertain what denomination the bills were.

The witness also identified Blair's signature on the register of his hotel.

State Senator John Broderick of Chicago was called to the stand when the afternoon session opened. Senator Broderick was asked by Attorney Healy to identify the following telegram:

"Hon. John Broderick, Chicago, Ill. 'I will meet you at your address in Chicago Wednesday morning.

"D. W. Holstlaw, Iuka, Ill. 'June 14, 1909.'"

Senator Broderick said he could not recall having received this telegram although what purported to be the original message, was shown him. He refused, however, to swear that he had not received this telegram.

Attorney Haney attacked the authenticity of the message. He said it appeared that erasures had been made in two places.

R. A. Chickadee, manager for the Western Union Telegraph company, identified the telegram as one taken from the files for June, 1909, of the Western Union company's office at Iuka, Ill.

The witness said he had kept a monthly file in the Iuka office for four years. The witness said the message presented to the committee was taken from that file for the month of June, 1909.

Various Witnesses Called.

Eden Knapp, a banker of Olney, Ill., followed Chickadee on the stand. He testified that former Representative Thomas Tipton rented a safe deposit box in the First National bank at Olney some time in 1909.

Former State Representative Wm. C. Blair of Mount Vernon, Ill., followed Knapp on the stand. Blair was questioned regarding disbursements which he made from his salary of $2,000 as a member of the legislature.

United States Senators Heyburn of Idaho and Pomerene of Ohio, members of the committee which is investigating Senator Stephenson's election, were spectators at the hearing during a portion of the afternoon.

The session was marked by several sharp clashes between Attorney Haney and Attorney Healy.

Browne Recalls Session Facts.

Lee O'Neil Browne of Ottawa, Ill., formerly minority leader in the state legislature, took the witness stand late in the afternoon.

"A child like faith in the tenets of friendship and a lack of knowledge of the devious ways of politics," said Browne, "led me to believe that Speaker Shurtliff favored me as a minority leader for the 46th general assembly. I have heard since, however, that he feared that with my 64 followers and conditions as they were on the Republican side, that I might become the real speaker of the house."

Browne also said that Roger C. Sullivan was opposed to him, taking up the subject of committee chairmanships and salaried positions in

SEEN THEM BRIGHTER

So Says W. J. Bryan in Speaking of Prospects for Democratic Victory at Next National Election.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 2.—"Although prospects of a Democratic victory in the next national election are bright," said William J. Bryan in an address in the interest of Joseph G. Taggart's candidacy for congress to succeed the late Congressman Mitchell, in Kansas City, Kan., to night, "I have seen them brighter. If the Republicans must elect a president, I am in favor of a progressive. Such a man is Senator LaFollette." Mr. Bryan spoke to 3,000 people in the largest hall in Kansas City, Kan.

"If I was sure the Democrats would elect their candidate for president the next time I would not fear about the Republican candidate," said Mr. Bryan. "Although prospects are bright for a Democratic president it has been my experience that prospects are deceptive."

Mr. Bryan said he believed Senator LaFollette would poll more votes for president than President Taft would.

"LaFollette is a real progressive. I would like to see him nominated by the Republicans. I believe he would poll more votes than President Taft."

KILLED BY TRAIN.

Mother and Two Children Met Death While Going Over Railroad Crossing.

Paris, Ky., Nov. 2.—While crossing the Louisville & Nashville railroad at Huston's Crossing in Bourbon county this afternoon, Miss Lena Hughes, her sister, Mrs. Barton Harp and her two children, Ruth and William, aged 3 years and 5 months, respectively, were struck by a fast train and instantly killed.

The buggy in which they were riding was directly on the track and it was torn loose from the horse, which was not hurt and carried down the track. The bodies were placed in the train and brought to Paris.

The entire family of Mr. Harp of Lexington, with the exception of himself, was wiped out by the accident.

MADERO DECLARED PRESIDENT.

Mexico City, Nov. 2.—By a vote of 153 to 19, the chamber of deputies decided Francisco I. Madero elected president of Mexico today. The vote approving the election of Jose Pino Suarez, as vice-president, was 134 to 24. The minority in both cases was based upon the claims that the election should be declared null on account of alleged irregularities.

Next Monday was definitely agreed upon as the date for the inauguration. Madero returned today from Calahuahua.

POWELL AT BENSON.

Benson, Ariz., Nov. 2.—Robert G. Fowler, who is eastward bound on his transcontinental airplane flight, arrived in Benson at 4:20 this afternoon. Leaving Tucson at 2:50 he "bucked" into a strong headwind which continued throughout his flight of two hours and five minutes. He will resume his flight tomorrow.

STRICKEN WITH APPOXY.

Lexington Junction, Mo., Nov. 2.—Norman J. Coleman of St. Louis, first secretary of agriculture of the United States, was taken from a westbound Wabash train here to day after having suffered a stroke of apoplexy, which, it is believed, may prove fatal. Mr. Coleman is 84 years old. He was taken to his home late to day in an unconscious condition.

TURKS REFUSE ITALIANS.

Tripoli, Nov. 2.—The eighty-second Italian Infantry was forced to fall back from its position by a force of Turks which appeared before the line of defense last night. Failure of shells to explode rendered ineffective fire from Turkish batteries brought up south of El Morsi to day. Italian artillery silenced the guns and forced the Turks to retire.

ROBBED OF $10,000.

Winona, Minn., Nov. 2.—Mrs. W. F. John of Rolling Stone, told the Winona police that she was robbed of $10,000 in cash which she carried in a suit case while about to board a street car to day.

Mrs. John said she had no faith in banks and carried her savings with her.

ENTHUSIASM FOR GREAT CAUSE

Mass Meeting of Women at Grace Church. Largely Attended—Addresses by Two Ministers.

A very enthusiastic mass meeting of the women of Jacksonville precinct in the interest of local option was held at Grace M. E. church Wednesday afternoon with a very large attendance. As the women entered they were given bangles and were seated by wards, which gave an opportunity to see who the workers in the various wards are. The ward banners were used and these same banners will be used in the parade Saturday afternoon.

The auditorium of the church was prettily decorated for the occasion with flags and bunting and quite a number of flags were sold.

Mrs. J. A. Parsons acted as chairman of the afternoon and the meeting opened with a hymn, "Onward Christian Soldiers," after which the invocation was given by Mrs. John N. Ward. Following the song "America" the congregation listened to an excellent address on "The Civil Red Dragon," by Rev. J. W. Miller, pastor of Grace church, a part of which is given below. Miss Katherine Rogers sang very beautifully "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and the second address of the afternoon was given by Dr. R. O. Post, pastor of the Congregational church, on "The Situation." Dr. Post has spoken before the women twice before in other campaigns and his words were greeted by hearty applause Thursday afternoon, showing that they appreciate his work. After the hymn, "My Soul Be on Thy Guard," the closing prayer and benediction was given by Rev. Howard D. French, pastor of State Street Presbyterian church.

Rev. Mr. Miller based his talk on the 12th chapter of Revelations, which described the dragon and the woman and the conflict between them. He said in part: "The fight between the dragon and the woman of the Bible is typical of the conflict between the women of today and the saloon evil."

"Slavery was one of the two great evils which have been handed down to us. The generation before us, some of whom were our fathers, overthrew slavery and now the task of overthrowing the saloon evil, which is committed to us, and if we have the courage of our ancestors we will succeed. The saloon is the supreme criminal of the age and to illustrate this fact I saw a roll of clippings 267 feet long taken from 47 daily newspapers in twelve days and in which was every known crime, committed by men under the influence of drink. In my early ministry I saw a man who was the victim of delirium tremens and to me it was a scene of hell itself."

"The home is the woman's domain but even here her great adversary, the saloon, disputes her authority. In the recent election in California the liquor interests used every power they could to defeat women's suffrage."

Rev. Mr. Miller closed his address with an appeal for them to follow in the footsteps of the brave women who for forty years by prayer, moral suasion and legislation have opposed this evil and said that he was of the opinion that they had the spirit of their worthy ancestors and would succeed.

MURDER TRIAL

Jury Cannot Agree and Court May Order Retrial.

Opelousas, La., Nov. 2.—The jury in the McRee murder trial was locked up at 6 o'clock to night with instructions to report to the court at 9 o'clock to morning morning. When it is expected the court will order a mistrial.

Her belief that she would be acquitted in a few minutes shattered and her face betraying anxiety, Mrs. McRee was led back to the cell she has occupied since she killed young Allan Garland in her home the morning of Sept. 21 last.

Mrs. McRee appeared to be confident this morning that she would be acquitted quickly. Even when listening to the bitter arraignment of herself as a "murderess" by Acting District Attorney Dubison she smiled and chatted with her relatives and attorneys as though not in the least apprehensive as to the verdict.

The case was given to the jury a 12:10 p. m. After lunch the jury began consideration of the evidence and at 3:45 p. m. reported to the court that they were hopelessly divided. They were sent back for further deliberation and at 6 p. m. the court took an adjournment until to morning.

COMPARES TAFT

TO LA FOLLETTE. Greenville, Mich., Nov. 2.—La Follette is a good man and an honest man and a great public detective, but his strength lies in legislative capacity and not in executive ability," declared Governor Chase Osborn in an address to the Greenville Republican club tonight.

HUMAN ELECTRICITY

Human Electricity the Scientific Basis of Health.

Andrew McConnell, who is lecturing in the parlors of the Dunlap house, proves that electricity controls every vital function, and that the individual can learn to increase and regulate the production of electricity in his own body and positively cure indigestion, insomnia, constipation, nervousness, heart weakness, liver and kidney troubles, rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, catarrh, age weakness and other conditions arising from low vitality.

The latest in these lectures is such that Mr. McConnell has been requested to remain over and speak in the parlors of the Dunlap house at 3 p. m. today and tonight. The lectures are free. He can be consulted in other hours during the day.

Rev. Dr. J. V. Whiting, formerly pastor of the First Baptist church, and Prof. W. C. Springgate, principal of Brown's Business college, have cured chronic conditions by means of this science, and heartily endorse it.

"Mr. McConnell has made a tremendous discovery, which I think is bound to revolutionize science. He has founded a movement which has proved to be world wide in its influence"—Rev. Dr. Robert S. MacArthur in New York Tribune.

"I simply am amazed more and more every day, as I come in contact with persons who after years of treatment by eminent physicians, take up the study and application of the McConnell teachings, and in the majority of cases seem to be fully restored to normal health"—John H. Chapman of Chicago, for years president A. B. Young People's Union.

Conferences can be made with Mr. McConnell by phoning to the Dunlap, Chicago address: Andrew McConnell, 624 Michigan avenue.

Make Claims for Cypress

The great Southern producers of cypress have called it "the wood eternal." They maintain that cypress is the proper wood for greenhouse construction, because through the years it can stand the heat from within and the cold from without. We carry cypress and there is no doubt but that it is a good wood. But cypress is only one of the many kinds of lumber in this well stocked yard, and if you have pine or oak needs, be sure to tell us about them. In fact, just name the kind of lumber you want and we'll furnish it.

WATER FROM LONG DISTANCE.

Rushville is planning to bring water a distance of six and one-half miles from McElho branch. Cast iron pipe is proposed for depressions and in places where there would be an unusual amount of strain or friction. For the rest of the distance wooden piping is recommended, thus reducing the expense $8,000 or $10,000. This wooden piping is constructed of short joints of staves about one foot in length, dove-tailed to make it water tight. Over this is placed two coats of asphalt and sand. The pipe is then wound with a steel ribbon, which protects it from air, earth and moisture, leaving nothing to come in contact with the wood except water on the inside.

Mozart's Musical Memory.

Mozart had a wonderful memory of musical sounds. When only fourteen years of age he went to Rome to assist in the solemnities of holy week. Immediately after his arrival he went to the Sistine chapel to hear the famous "Miserere" of Allegri. Being aware that it was forbidden to take or give a copy of this renowned piece of music, Mozart placed himself in a corner and gave the strictest attention to the music and on leaving the church noted down the entire piece. A few days afterward he heard it a second time and, following the music with his own copy in his hand, satisfied himself of the fidelity of his memory. The next day he sang the "Miserere" at a concert, accompanying himself on the harpsichord, and the performance produced such a sensation in Rome that Pope Clement XIV. requested that this musical prodigy should be presented to him at once.

The Ilinoi Heater

Cut shows the soft coal heater that has the reputation of utilizing all the heat units that are contained in soft coal. The Ilinoi has special features, such as a mica feed door which enables you to see your fire while it is burning. Has a super heating air flue passing from the lower base at rear of stove to the top, taking the cold air from the floor, heating it to a great degree as it passes along the heated surface and discharges it at the top. This is a natural process and does not require additional fuel, but will heat three times the amount of space as compared with other makes of soft coal stoves.

PHILIPPINE VOLCANOES.

Mayon is the Most Famous, and the Taal Comes Next.

The most famous Philippine volcano and one of the finest volcano cones in the world is that of Mayon. Its height is 8,970 feet, and the volcano is visible at a great distance. Since 1763 records have been kept of its eruptions. In that year many plantations and villages were buried under a stream of lava which flowed down its eastern slope. About 1,200 lives were lost in the eruption of 1814, which buried the country around a part of the base of Mayon under the outpourings of lava and dust. A similar calamity in 1825 destroyed the lives of about 1,500 persons. In the nineteenth century there were a number of severe eruptions, including one in 1886-7 which continued about nine months. An eruption in 1897 killed 350 persons and destroyed much property. Twenty-two violent eruptions of this volcano are on record.

Next to Mayon the Taal volcano is the most remarkable. It is on an island in the lake of Bombon, and the island, built up by its outpourings, has an area of 230 square miles. The volcano is incessantly ejecting dust and vapor from its crater. Taal as well as Mayon has been the center of numerous destructive earthquakes, but no very great eruption has occurred since 1861, when four villages around the mountain were completely destroyed.

LENGTHY VISITS.

The Unattended Hospitality of Old Virginia.

Virginia hospitality is a byword. The old time country house, says Mrs. Roger A. Fryer in "My Day," was built of elastic material, capable of sheltering any number of guests, many of whom remained all summer. Indeed, this was expected of them.

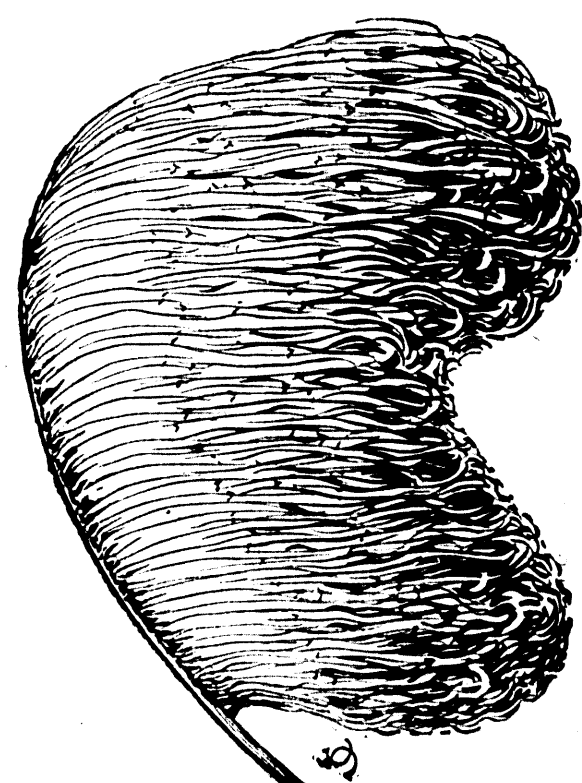

"My dear sir," said the genial master of Westover to a departing guest who had sought shelter from a rain-storm, "my dear sir, do stay and pay us a visit."

The guest pleaded business that forbade his compliance.

"Well, well," said Major Drewry, "if you can't pay us a visit come for two or three weeks at least."

"Week ends" were unknown in Virginia, and equally out of the question an invitation limited by the host to prescribed days and hours. Sometimes a happy guest would ignore time altogether and stay along from season to season. I cannot remember a parallel case to that of Isaac Watts, who, invited by Sir Thomas Abney to spend a night at Stoke Newington, accepted with great cheerfulness and stayed the rest of his life, nearly forty years, but I do remember that an invitation for one night brought to a member of our family a pleasant couple who remained for years.

A GREAT DISCOVERY.

Certain Ingredients That Really Promote Hair Growth When Properly Combined.

Resorcin is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered by science, and in connection with Beta Naphthol, which is both germicidal and antiseptic, a combination is formed which destroys the germs which rob the hair of its natural nourishment, and also creates a clean, healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the development of new germs.

Phlorizin, although not a coloring matter or dye, is a well-known ingredient for restoring the hair to its natural color, when the loss of hair has been caused by a disease of the scalp.

These ingredients in proper combination, with alcohol added as a stimulant and for its well-defined nourishing properties, perfect perhaps the most effective remedy that is shown for scalp and hair troubles. We have a remedy which is chiefly composed of these ingredients, in combination with other extremely valuable medicinal agents. We guarantee it to positively cure dandruff and to grow hair, even though the scalp is bare of hair. If there is any vitality left in the roots, it will positively cure baldness, or we will refund your money. If the scalp has a glazed, shiny appearance, it's an indication that baldness is permanent, but in other instances we believe baldness is curable.

We want every one troubled with scalp disease or loss of hair to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. If it does not cure dandruff and grow hair to the satisfaction of the user, we will without question or quibble return every cent paid us for it. We print this guarantee on every bottle. It has effected a positive cure in 93 per cent of cases where put to a practical test.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is entirely unlike, and we think, in every particular, better than anything else we know of for the purpose for which it is prescribed. We urge you to try this preparation at our entire risk. Certainly we know of no better guarantee to give you. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Jacksonville only at our store. The Rexall Store, Lee P. Alcott, east side square.

About 6 o'clock the sophs arose and rounded Messrs. Hedgecock, Nebold and Berry, freshmen, and quickly escorted them to the west room of the gymnasium. Here Hatfield was appointed door keeper. Upon this scene came other freshmen and as a result the freshmen who had been tied were released and the sophs in the midst were given the shackles. There were all sorts of perdicaments and when the affair was ended the freshmen triumphed.

MORGAN HOME FOR CONFEDERATE MUSEUM.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 2.—When the historic old home of Gen. John H. Morgan, the famous Confederate cavalry leader, is put up for sale at public auction here on Saturday, it is probable an effort will be made by the Daughters of the Confederacy to acquire the property and convert it into an historic museum for relics of the Confederacy. The property, which consists of an imposing brick and stone mansion with spacious grounds, occupies a conspicuous site in the downtown section, and has long been one of the show places of the city. The place is to be sold to settle the estate of Mrs. Katherine G. Reid, a relative of General Morgan, who owned the property for many years.

LOCAL OPTION PARADE

Line of March Is Announced For Saturday Afternoon at 2:30.

The local option parade will be held Saturday afternoon (or in case of rain, on Monday after school), forming at 2:30 p. m. on South Church and adjacent streets. All children from 3 years up are urged to take part. Automobiles will be furnished for the children under 9 years. These automobiles will assemble at the Christian church, on South Church, south of College avenue. All the little children will be returned to this point so the mothers can find them when the parade is over.

The positions of the different wards will be as follows:
First ward on South Church, front resting on West State street.
Second ward on West Morgan, front resting on South Church street, facing west.
Third ward on West College avenue, front resting on South Church street, facing west.
Fourth ward on West College avenue, front resting on South Church street, facing east.
High school on West College avenue, east of Woman's college delegates.
Automobiles and citizens in carriages south of College avenue on South Church street.
Woman's college behind the Third ward.
Illinois college behind the Fourth ward.
Business college on Morgan street west of Church street, facing east.
Y. M. C. A. on Morgan street west of J. B. C.

The line of march will be from Church street east on State to square, north around the square to South Main street, south to College avenue, west to Church street and disband.

Jeffries' band will play and the parade will be led by Commissioner Newman, who will carry his big flag. Capt. J. E. Wright will be chief marshal and Charles W. Potter and D. E. Kennedy will have charge of the automobiles.

AN APPEAL.

To the Women of Jacksonville:
Has the saloon ever hurt you? Do you know that it never will? Do you know anyone it has hurt? Now is your time to strike it a blow. You who read this have an influence no one else has. Come show which side your influence is on by marching in the parade Saturday afternoon. I know you do not WANT to; who of us does? But wouldn't you go a long way to save your own boy or your neighbor's boy from the temptation of the open saloon? Is it right for you to stand on the walk and laugh, or even look on, at those who are willing to march for conscience's sake, when by your presence you could help to show the sentiment of the women of Jacksonville? If the election were lost, and you hadn't done all that was asked of you, how would you feel? This parade is not a show nor a pageant, but a MOVING MORAL FORCE. Come, show you are with us. The line of march is short, and if you can't walk, come in your carriage or automobile—but come and help us say the women of Jacksonville want no saloons here.

Lillian Irland Danskin,
Chairman Local Option Parade.

McINTOCK RESIGNS.

New York, Nov. 2.—Barry McIntock today tendered his resignation as vice-president and actuary of the Mutual Life Insurance company, which he had served since 1888. His health was given as the cause. He will remain, however, trustee of the company. W. H. Truesdale, president of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad, was elected to succeed him.

FOOTBALL PLAYER INJURED.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 2.—On the eve of the game with Purdue Saturday the Illinois university football team has suffered the loss of Quarterback John Merriman, who is out of the game with an injured shoulder. Merriman's injury is similar to the one which put Seller, the star quarterback, out of the game earlier in the season. Hall probably will be shifted to the position from end for the season.

ASSAULT MYSTERY UNSOLVED.

Pleasant, Iowa, Nov. 2.—After two days of investigation by local police, the mystery of the murderous assault upon Mrs. J. P. Jordan at her home early Tuesday, remained unsolved today. The woman was still unconscious.

Local authorities have asked the co-operation of detectives from other cities.

HYDE MURDER TRIAL.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 2.—Only one defendant of the twenty-four who reported for examination in the Dr. B. C. Hyde murder case today qualified as a temporary juror. He is Peter Fernan of Kansas City. A new venire of forty men was called for service tomorrow. There are now twenty tentatively accepted jurors.

INJURED BY EXPLOSION.

Joliet, Ill., Nov. 2.—Four men were badly injured today by a dynamite explosion at a construction camp of the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern railroad just east of here. A tent holding the dynamite caught fire, presumably from an over heated stove, and the explosion followed.

PROBATE COURT.

Estate of Thomas Gaddis, deceased. Report approved, ordered that ex. file new bond in sum of $15,000.

LUCKY LAST LOOK

It Preserved the Declaration of Independence in 1814.

SAVED IT FROM THE BRITISH.

The Precious Document Would Have Been in the State Department When It Was Burned but For Pleasanton's Final Glance Around the Room.

Comparatively few of the present generation know how near to being lost was once the most precious of our national documents, the Declaration of Independence. It was during the war of 1812. The Declaration of Independence hung for many years in a frame in the state department in the room then occupied by Stephen Pleasanton. Mr. Beasley, commissary of prisoners of war in London, forwarded to the state department some London newspapers, stating that the English fleets and transports were receiving troops at Bordeaux, France, with the intention of operating against Washington and Baltimore. Soon after it was learned that the British fleet was in Chesapeake bay and that it was ascending the Patuxent. The officials and citizens of the little capital city were hourly expecting an attack.

Upon receipt of this information, which was a few days before the enemy entered Washington, Mr. Monroe, then secretary of state, James Madison being president, mounted his horse, rode to Benedict, a small village on the Patuxent, where the British forces were being landed, and climbed an eminence within a quarter of a mile of the village. In order to ascertain the strength of the enemy. Being convinced, after his inspection, that we had no force available that could successfully resist them, he sent a note to Mr. Pleasanton by a vidette, advising him to see that the best care was taken of the books and papers of the state department.

Acting at once upon this authority, Mr. Pleasanton purchased some coarse linen and had it made into bags of suitable size, in which he, assisted by others in the office, placed the books and other papers.

While engaged in this work General Armstrong, then secretary of war, passing the state department on his way to his own office, remarked that he thought they were unnecessarily alarming themselves, as he did not think the British were serious in their intentions of coming to Washington. Fortunately Mr. Pleasanton was of a different opinion, and observed that it was the part of prudence to take measures to preserve these valuable papers of the revolutionary government. Had Mr. Pleasanton delayed but a few days, had he followed the advice of the secretary of war, an irreparable loss would have been sustained. For the papers which Mr. Pleasanton had placed in the coarse linen bags comprised the secret journals of congress, then not published; the correspondence of General Washington, his commission, resigned at the close of the war; the correspondence of General Greene and other officers of the Revolution, as well as laws, treaties and correspondence of the department of state from the adoption of the constitution down to that time.

Mr. Pleasanton had the bags carried to a grist mill, which he selected as a suitable depository. The mill, which was unoccupied, belonged to Edgar Patterson and was situated on the Virginia side of the Potomac, beyond the Chain bridge, two miles above Georgetown.

The last load had left, and Mr. Pleasanton was just quitting the vacant rooms when, glancing back suddenly to see whether anything had been left behind, to his consternation he saw the Declaration of Independence, which had been overlooked, hanging upon the wall. He hastily cut it out of the frame and carried it away with the other papers.

He then began to be uneasy about the place he had chosen, for if the British took Washington, which he firmly believed they would do, and very soon at that, they would in all probability detach a force for the purpose of destroying a foundry for the making of cannon and shot in the neighborhood and, of course, would consider a grist mill too valuable a thing to be left standing in a country they meant to subdue. Mr. Pleasanton therefore visited some of the Virginia farmhouses, whose owners were only too willing to loan him wagons in which to convey the documents to Leesburg, a distance of thirty-five miles. There they were deposited in an empty house, the keys of which were given to Rev. Mr. Littlejohn, who was one of the collectors of internal revenue.

Worn out with his labors, Mr. Pleasanton states in a letter, he retired early to bed that night and slept soundly. Next morning he was informed by the people of the little town where he had stayed that evening that they had seen during the night, the same being the 24th of August, a large fire in the direction of Washington, which proved to be the light from the public buildings, which the enemy had set on fire and burned to the ground.

When he returned to Washington on the 26th he found the public buildings still burning and learned that the British army had evacuated the city the preceding evening in the belief that the Americans were again assembling in the rear for the purpose of cutting off their retreat.—Kansas City Times.

THE POULTRY SHOW

Rules and Regulations for the Big Exhibition.

The rules and regulations of the Morgan County Poultry Show, to be given in December, are as follows:

1. All rules will be strictly adhered to.

2. All association premiums will be paid on or before the closing day of the show, December 9, 1911. Winners of specials offered by other parties will receive orders for same from the secretary as soon after awards are made as possible.

3. Each specimen must be entered in the name of the actual owner.

4. All birds entered should be properly banded with a numbered leg band. Those arriving without bands will be banded at the expense of the exhibitor. The charge will be five cents for each bird.

5. Persons having birds they do not care to enter for competition may place them on exhibition at the small cost of 10 cents per bird to pay for feed and care.

6. No awards will be made known until the score cards have been added up and approved, and the colors placed on the coops.

7. During the exhibition all specimens entered will be under the control of the superintendent and cannot be removed without his consent. Any person violating this rule will forfeit any premiums to which he may be entitled. Birds may be removed after 6 p. m. December 9.

8. No person shall handle or remove from the coops the birds of any other exhibitor without permission of the superintendent or owner.

9. Breeding pens may consist of fowls, old or young, or both together, and must consist of one male and four females.

10. Each individual bird in a breeding pen must first be entered separately.

11. Premiums on exhibition pens will be awarded in the following manner: The secretary will select the four highest scoring females in each variety shown by one exhibitor, add their scores, divide the amount by four, and to the quotient thus obtained add the score of the highest scoring male of the same variety shown by the same exhibitor, and the same shall be the score of the exhibition pen.

12. All specimens, not disqualified, shall be scored and a record of the same kept in the score book of the association.

13. In no case will a premium be awarded where the specimen does not come up to the following scale of points:

First premium birds to score not less than 90.

Second premium birds to score not less than 88.

Third premium birds to score not less than 86.

Fourth premium birds to score not less than 84.

First pen to score not less than 150.

All the above with the exceptions and provisions as given in the American Standard of Perfection.

14. All protests against awards, etc., must be made in writing and delivered to the secretary before 6 p. m. December 8, 1911, and must be accompanied by a deposit of $5.00. If, after the matter has been thoroughly investigated, the charges should not be sustained, the deposit shall be forfeited to the association.

15. Should two or more specimens score a tie, the tie shall be broken according to the rules in the American Standard of Perfection.

16. The latest revised edition of the American Standard of Perfection will govern the judges in all varieties recognized therein.

17. All birds competing for premiums must be strictly the property of the exhibitor. Any attempt to evade this rule will exclude all specimens entered by the offending party from competing, if discovered in time; if not, all premiums to such exhibitor will be withheld.

18. All specimens should be exhibited in coops of standard size provided by the exhibitor, as follows: 24 inches wide, 30 inches high, and 24 to 48 inches in length. Except that coops containing turkeys or geese may be 36 inches high, and coops containing Bantams and pidgeons may be either 15 or 18 inches high. All coops should be of standard color, white calvas and light blue frame. Coops can be rented or purchased from the superintendent of the show. Orders for coops should be given not less than ten days prior to December 6th, 1911.

19. Feed will be furnished by the association free and good care will be taken that may occur. Exhibitors will not be responsible for any loss that may occur. Exhibitors not attending in person can ship their stock to the association and rest assured that it will receive good care and attention. Such stock will be promptly returned at the close of the exhibition, or otherwise disposed of, as requested.

20. All specimens, except games and game bantams, must be exhibited in their natural conditions, and any violation of this rule will exclude specimens from competing. All specimens showing signs of disease will be removed from the building.

21. The association will be pleased to undertake the sale of specimens of exhibitors not attending in person. A small commission of 1 per cent will be charged for this service. The selling price should be plainly written on entry blank.

22. A display shall consist of five or more entries of one or more varieties, unless otherwise specified. In case of a tie, the exhibitor showing the largest number of birds as display will be awarded the premium.

23. In awarding premiums, for display, specimens competing shall count as follows: Those winning first prize, 3 points; second prize, 2 points; third prize, 1 point; fourth prize, 3 points. All other birds competing and not disqualified, scoring 85 or better, 1 point. Individual premiums only, to be counted.

24. Exhibitors offering special premiums shall not compete for specials offered by themselves.

25. No charge will be made at the door for admission to the show room. Children under 12 years of age must be accompanied and cared for by an adult.

BRUSH READY WITH ANSWER.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—President John T. Brush of the New York National League baseball team is going to answer the letter received to day from B. B. Johnson of the national baseball commission, in which the policy of the commission regarding reports of ticket scalping at the world's series games was discussed.

Until he answers Mr. Johnson's letter, he, like Johnson, will decline to make known the contents either of the commissioner's letter or of his own.

MRS. GODFREY WELL AGAIN.
Vineland, N. J., Mrs. Allen T. Godfrey who has been in bad health for some time, has just written the following letter telling of her recovery.

"Everyone who is in broken health ought to know that Vinol will build them up and make them strong. I had been in a badly run down condition for several months, and I never fail to give Vinol a good word now."

This is one more proof that our delicious cod liver and iron remedy, Vinol, which is free from cod liver oil, is a remarkably strengthening and vitalizing medicine.

Men and women who are weak and in poor health, unable to sleep or eat well, and who have given up hope of ever being strong again should certainly take Vinol, without waiting another day, for it is exactly what they need.

There is no risk at all, for it is so sure to do good that we guarantee it absolutely and will refund the money if you are not satisfied. Lee P. Alcott, druggist, Jacksonville, Ill.

CORDIALLY RECEIVED
C. S. Marshall With Warrant for Rockefeller Gets Courteous Treatment.

New York, Nov. 2.—An invitation to breakfast with a multi-millionaire did not tempt United States Marshal Henkel when he journeyed to Pocantico Hills to day to serve additional papers in the government's suit against the United States Steel corporation upon John D. Rockefeller and found the oil magnate eating his morning meal.

The marshal, when he returned to his office, said he had declined the invitation to partake of the meal.

"What was it?" he continued. "Now Mr. Rockefeller treated me like a gentleman and it wouldn't be fair to tell what he had to eat, would it?"

"I explained that the paper should have accompanied the previous document and expressed the hope that he would not put out about it."

"Oh, no, Marshall," he said, "I know that you fellows have many vexatious things to do in your line of duty. I admire a man who performs his task well."

"Now that is the last of the bunch except the one I have for my friend, Charley Schwab, but there won't be any trouble in serving that."

FAVORITE BASE BURNERS

FOR WINTER COMFORT

It's all in the flues

"Finest Heating Stove in the World"

We Can Save You Hundreds of Dollars on Coal-Bills

We can do it with a Favorite Base Burner. The Favorite will save at least two tons of coal every year it is in use. Two tons of hard coal cost $14.00. If properly taken care of, the Favorite will last at least 25 years. Total saving, $350.00. Perfectly clear, isn't it, and more than that, perfectly true.

The Favorite has features that make it the most wonderful and economical heating stove in existence—and these features are all patented.

You may now have some other base burner in your home. Never mind that. Come to us, and we will exchange it for you, allow you a good price and put in one of the Favorites. You may as well save the price of two tons of coal this winter as not, and the Favorite will do it for you. It is the only base burner that will. We will back all of these statements and claims with a personally signed guarantee—put it in black and white if you want it.

Place the Favorite in your home. Try it all winter if you want to. If you do not find it just what we have represented it to be, and what others have found it to be—bring it back. We will refund your money.

Ask any other dealer to put their stoves to such a test. They would not dare do it. We can, because we know what the Favorite will do, and we know what it has done in scores of homes right here in this vicinity. That is why we can make such a liberal offer and know positively the stove will make good.

Come and see us and we will talk it over. Remember, we are willing to let you have the use of the Favorite all winter for nothing if you do not find everything we have said about it to be true. We will make terms to suit—cash or easy payments.

A Protest from the Country Against Saloons in Jacksonville

1134 Count Them if You Like---They are Here 1134

We trade in Jacksonville, and we ask the Jacksonville merchants and business men to respect our wishes and keep the saloons out. Jacksonville is our county seat. We visit there on business and pleasure many times a year. If our custom and presence are appreciated, we ask the Jacksonville merchants to respect our wishes and keep the saloon out.

ROOSEVELT WRITES PLAIN TRUTHS

Points Out Real Meaning of Arbitration—Refers to Conditions in China.

New York, Nov. 2.—Theodore Roosevelt has an article on "Arbitration: Pretense and Reality," in the current number of the Outlook. It says in part:

"Surely the real friends of peace in this country ought to be able to profit by the events that have happened in China and in the Mediterranean during these very fall months since the arbitration treaty was considered in the senate. During these months we have seen widespread revolt in China, with utter disorganization of the empire, and we have seen war unexpectedly break out between Italy and Turkey. In China there has doubtless been much excuse for the revolt because of a tyranny and misgovernment, and this tyranny and misgovernment have been greater than in any really civilized nation, although the Chinese are for more unwelcome than any civilized nation, and have an army very much less efficient than that of any civilized power. The complete absence of militarism in China and China's effort to rely purely on pacific measures in dealing with all foreign powers, have not only caused it to be a victim of various foreign powers within the last few decades, but have had not the smallest effect in saving it from tyranny, misgovernment, and the most far-reaching economic misery at home, and, moreover, have had the effect of depriving it of means even of keeping order within its own boundaries.

Force Must Back Treaties.

"As for the war between Italy and Turkey, I am not now concerned with its ethical justification. Personally, I believe that it is in the interest of humanity that Tripoli should fall under European control, just as it is in the interest of humanity that Morocco shall so fall; just as it has been of immeasurable benefit to mankind and especially to Algerian and Egyptian mankind, that Algeria and Egypt should fall under the control of France and of England. But this is not the point. The point is that this war proves the utter inefficiency of paper treaties when they are unbacked by force. The utter folly of those who believe that these paper treaties accomplish any useful purpose in the present stage of the world's development when there is no force behind them; and, finally, not merely the folly, but the iniquity of making treaties which there is no real intention of putting into effect. Turkey's treaties with various European powers explicitly guarantee her integrity, and on the mere technical legalities of the case no court of arbitration in the world could possibly declare in any other way than as against Italy and for Turkey if the case at issue between them were brought to arbitration. Turkey has all the protection possible to give her by paper treaties; and yet all of these treaties thus guaranteeing her against dismemberment, thus pledging the honor of various great nations to guarantee her integrity, are not worth as much as a single gunboat of the smallest size the minute that it becomes worth while for any serious opponent to attack her. If Turkey had had a fleet which relatively to other fleets was even approximately as strong as her army, no man of any sense believes, that the war would ever have occurred. She had no such fleet; she had merely the protection the treaties afford her; and the minute the test came the treaties proved not only utterly insufficient as a substitute for a navy, but not worth the paper upon which they were written. In passing, be it observed that this was quite as much because the treaties promised too much as for any other reason.

Cannot Arbitrate All.

"It would be not merely foolish but wicked for us as a nation to agree to arbitrate any dispute that affects our vital interest or our independence or our honor; because such an agreement would amount on our part to a covenant to abandon our duty, to an agreement to surrender the rights of the American people about unknown matters at unknown times in the future. Such an agreement would be wicked if kept and yet to break—as it undoubtedly would be broken, if the occasion arose—would be only less shameful than keeping it. A self-enforcing arbitration treaty of such a kind cannot be devised, simply because no such treaty that can be devised will execute itself, or will or ought to be executed by the nation in time of stress. Of course the same reasons which make it impossible to agree to arbitrate questions that involve our vital interest, independence, or honor, apply to any proposal to submit to others the question whether or not a given dispute of such a kind is 'justiciable,' or does or does not involve such questions and therefore should or should not be arbitrated.

A Genuine Advance.

"If as a people we wish to make a genuine advance, to promise what can and will and ought to be done—instead of merely making a pretense by promising something which will not and ought not to be performed—should the occasion to keep the promise ever arise—we should agree definitely to submit to arbitration all disputes that do not involve the vital interest, the independence or honor of the nation, and we should at the same time make provisions which will tend to bring about a pacific solution of all disputes not covered by the treaty. To this end a provision should be inserted in such treaty that if either party to it claims that a dispute involves its vital interest, its independence, or its honor, then (always provided that neither party takes a position that necessitates immediate action by the other), upon the request of either party, all questions of fact and all questions of law involved in the dispute shall be referred to arbitrators who shall have no power to decide the dispute, but shall be authorized to pass upon the controversy as to questions of fact and of law, and to recommend such adjustment of the dispute as they may deem just and honorable to both the contracting nations. The recommendation of the arbitrators should then be given publicity, and, unless rejected within a specified time by one or other of the contracting parties (in the case of the United States this would mean the president and the senate, or perhaps the president and congress), should become binding upon both.

"This would secure, in the first place, delay for adequate consideration of the questions at issue, and, in the next place, a calm and dispassionate discussion of the controversy before the civilized world; further, the elimination of questions of fact and of law from the controversy; and, finally, it would make it easier for a government to accept a fair solution of a given controversy if there had been popular prejudice against such solution.

"Some such plan as that herein suggested, if enacted into a treaty, would really forward the cause of international peace, and yet would leave the nation arbiters of its own destiny, and would promise nothing which could not be performed, having regard both to the vital question of national honor and, above all, to the still more vital question of national duty. On these two questions of duty and honor the nation, if true to itself, can never be guided by any outside body, and can pay heed only to its own conscience and its own sense of right; to fail thus to be guided would mean that it was recreant to its duty, not only to itself, but to the world at large."

EFFICIENCY.

How Many Men Know How to Keep It at Par.

Thousands; yes tens of thousands of men, grow old 10 years too soon. If you are a man and realize that your efficiency is on the wane and that you are losing money and happiness in consequence get a 50c box of MI-O-NA stomach tablets today and take two after or with each meal for three days; then take one with each meal regularly until you feel well and vigorous. MI-O-NA stomach tablets disinfect, tone up, restore elasticity to the stomach and intestinal canal and aid indigestion. They do more; they increase the nutrition of the body and in case of nerve exhaustion, sleeplessness, night sweats, bad dreams or any condition that requires a restorative they act with astonishing rapidity. They can be found at Coover & Shreve's and helpful druggists the world over.

A QUEER LEGEND.

Fedor Kosmich, the Hermit, May Have Been a Russian Czar.

A curious legend is associated with the name of Alexander I. of Russia. It is to the effect that the emperor in 1825 was sojourning in the Crimea. When near Taganrog his coachman by some means managed to overturn the carriage of a court courier named Markof, who was killed. The emperor, wishing to rid himself of the cares of state, so the story runs, caused it to be reported that it was he himself who was killed. Then he carried out a plan which he had for long conceived of retiring to Siberia and living there under an assumed name. Schilder, the historian, professes to have satisfied himself that at all events the remains in the Cathedral of Peter and Paul are those of the courier. Schilder asserts that he learned this much from the children of Markof.

According to the legend, Alexander I. of Russia died in Siberia in 1804, but history records that he died at Taganrog in 1825. It seems that in 1825 a mysterious stranger appeared in Siberia. He gave his name as Fedor Kosmich and never revealed any other or the place whence he came. He lived the life of a hermit and was received generally with respect. In 1836 he accepted the invitation of a rich merchant to take up his abode in his house at Tomsk. There he was very retired and held communication only with Mlle. Kromof and the merchant, her father. Every one who saw him was struck with his extraordinary resemblance to the deceased czar. The Grand Duke Nicholas Michailovitch contributed an article in the Revue Historique in which he denied the sensational part of the story, but admitted that the hermit of Siberia might have been a natural brother of Alexander I.—London Globe.

IRISH BROGUE.

It is Really the Old Time Method of Pronouncing English.

Perhaps nothing illustrates better the vicissitudes of pronunciation in English than a study of what is called the "Irish brogue." This lingual mode, for it is scarcely to be called a dialect, is usually presumed to be a deterioration of language due to lack of education and contact with legitimate sources of English. It proves after a little study to be a preservation of the old method of pronouncing English, which has come down to a great degree unchanged in Ireland from Shakespeare's time.

In Elizabeth's time, however, it came to be realized that if there was to be any real affiliation of the two countries then the Irish language must be supplanted by English, and a definite effort in this direction was made. This change of speech, resented and resisted, was nevertheless successfully accomplished all over the island except in the west within a decade after Shakespeare's death. This fact takes on a new significance when we study what we now call the Irish brogue in connection with what is known to have been the pronunciation of English at that time. The two are found to conform in practically every respect. Irishmen pronounce English as their forefathers learned it and have preserved its pronunciation because they have been away from the main current of English speech variation ever since.—Harper's Magazine.

Uncalled For Courtesy.

The Vicomte Toussaint was formerly a colonel in the French army and mayor of Toulouse. He was a brave man and a dashing officer. During one of the hottest engagements of a terrible year of war, noticing that his troops were bending forward under a galling fire to escape the bullets of the enemy while he alone maintained an erect position, he exclaimed, "Since when, I should like to know, has so much politeness been shown to the Prussians?" The sarcasm took instantaneous effect, for the soldiers rushed forward and carried everything before them.

Devoted to Duty.

"Are you ever coming to bed?" he called out.

"I don't know," she replied. "I promised Mrs. Jones that I'd keep track of her husband while she is away, and I'm going to know what time he comes home if I have to stay up all night!"—Detroit Free Press.

Went Further.

"Didn't I tell you that when you met a man in hard luck you ought to greet him with a smile?" said the wise and good counselor.

"Yes," replied the flinty souled person. "I went even further than that. I gave him the grand laugh!"—Washington Star.

Forget Them.

If you would increase your happiness and prolong your life forget your neighbors' faults. Forget the slanders you have ever heard. Forget the fault finding and give a little thought to the cause which provoked it.

A Sensible Start.

"My wife has joined the reform movement."

"What does she propose to do first?"

"Get some reliable woman to take care of baby!"—Pittsburg Post.

Room For Improvement.

Do you realize that this Union should have your good will and co-operation?

The great army of Americans engaged in the making of shoes labored under adverse conditions, unsanitary factories, hours entirely too long, and small remuneration was the rule rather than the exception.

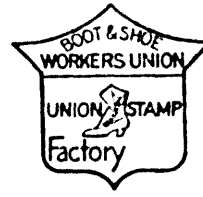

The advent of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union has revolutionized all this. Clean, pure workshops, humane treatment and a living wage has been gained for shoeworkers. Shall this work go on, or shall former conditions prevail?

It is your duty to insist that every pair of shoes you wear bears this label.

Grain Letter.
Chicago, Ill., Nov. 2.—Wheat—Another chapter on federal investigation caused an early slump, but covering operations on large scale rallied prices to above the close last night. Heavy offerings on the balance caused a sharp break to about low point of the day. News was decidedly bearish. Primary receipts overran those of a year ago considerably, and heavy offerings from receiving houses indicates the country is selling freely even at the decline in prices. Confidence will have to be restored before we can expect the market to follow the legitimate lines. Kansas City has the largest stocks of wheat ever reported. Foreign conditions do not help. Some rains in Argentina and Australia have put the growing crop in excellent condition.

Corn—Clear and cold weather probably secured for the weakness in corn as much as anything else. Prospects for a liberal movement, and we don't look for any advance at this time and believe that sales of May corn are advisable whenever opportunity affords. True cash prices are higher, but receipts will satisfy the demand.

Oats—Market generally nervous, unsettled, trying to keep pace with other grains. Liquidation was a feature early, but there appears to be no commensurate demand on the decline.

Provisions—Early future was selling of lard by foreign houses taking profits. The decrease in world's visible supply of lard was more than expected. Packers show no disposition to sell freely. Not much change in the cash demand. On the breaks product looks cheap.

TRIAL SOON TO BEGIN

Troubles of "Model" Town of Gary Will be Aired in Court.

Valparaiso, Ind., Nov. 2.—To the court records of Porter county there are about to be added several interesting chapters that might be appropriately entitled "The Troubles of a Model Town." The cases of Mayor Thomas E. Knotts and several other officials of the city of Gary, against whom serious charges are pending, are on the docket for next Saturday and it is expected the trials will begin here early in the coming week. If half that has been printed concerning the alleged corruption in the "model city" planned and dominated by the steel trust is true, then revelations may be expected at the trials that will relegate the political characters in some of the big cities to the shelf reserved for "pikers."

The city of Gary has yet to celebrate its tenth birthday, but despite its youth it is a city in all that the word implies. Where scarcely a decade ago there was nothing but the long sweep of sand dunes on the shore of Lake Michigan there are now located the greatest steel mills in the country, together with numerous other industries that have been attracted by the excellent transportation facilities and other advantages offered by the new city.

But with the virtues also came the vices of a metropolis. For several years the newspapers have told of the moral and political corruption alleged to flourish in the "model town." Many of the vicious elements driven out of Chicago from time to time are said to have found in Gary a most desirable haven. Gambling houses are said to have been conducted almost openly. Frequent arrests by the federal authorities have given rise to the belief that the little city also has been a center for the "white slave" traffic.

Mayor Knott's Career.
Efforts of the better element to "clean up" the place long proved unavailing. The authorities were unmovable. At the head of affairs was Thomas E. Knotts, who held the mayoralty. It is alleged, by virtue of an election in which thuggery held the winning hand, Knotts came to Gary a few years ago from Hammond, where he conducted a newspaper and was prominent in town politics. So far as is known he was not overburdened with worldly goods when he stepped off the train in the "model town." Today he is reputed to be in the near-millionaire class, with heavy interests in realty, manufacturing, public utility and banking corporations in and around Gary.

Failing to make any progress in the crusade against vice, the reformers in the town turned their attention to the political corruption alleged to exist. Their progress along this line promised better results from the moment they hit the trail. The climax came early in September when Mayor Knotts and several members of the city council were placed under arrest charged with bribery.

It is charged by detectives, who have carefully worked up the case, that the mayor and those arrested with him solicited a bribe of $8,000 from representatives of a utility company to put through a heating franchise which would have entailed an expenditure of many thousands of dollars by the city and public.

Dictagraph records will play a stellar part in the coming trials. It is said that dictagraphs were connected up in the hotel room occupied by T. S. Dean, the applicant for the franchise, and also that one had been installed even in the mayor's private office.

Mayor Knotts was arrested in the city hall just after Dean came from the executive's office with the heating franchise in his pocket. Dean alleges he paid the mayor $5,000. Before entering the mayor's office, Dean had himself searched by four persons as a proof that he had the $5,000 in his pocket when he entered Mayor Knott's room. When he left the room he had himself searched again. He told the deputies to serve the warrant, and they would find the money in an envelope in a pigeon-hole in Mayor Knott's desk.

IN MEMORIAM.

George J. Moore.

At the early age of 26 years there departed this life all that was mortal of this brilliant newspaper correspondent, magazine writer, poet and philosopher. The wisdom of the infinite has seen fit to withdraw from the ken of man one of the coming noblemen of the literary world of the present and future, and there remains left to the memory of mankind, what? Vistas of sunshine along pathways of the past to those who knew him; bright reflections of his charming personality, and illuminating flashes of keen and kindly wit and humor of the highest order.

We who have met this man—and he was a man, in every sense, albeit kind and tender-hearted as a woman—will never forget the brilliant intellect, the noble heart, and sympathetic soul of George Moore, keyed to harmonic perfection with every phase of environment, tuned to ready interpretation of nature wherever found.

As a newspaper man, as editor of the University Weekly, the college publication at Fayetteville, Arkansas, he found his first call to the literary circle; and the success of that paper during his regime on its staff, spoke volumes for his future in his chosen profession. Later, as correspondent for the Arkansas Gazette and Democrat, of Little Rock, and the Southwest American, of Fort Smith, Ark., he developed into one of the most accurate and brilliant journalists the south has ever known. Since his connection with those papers he went into the field of feature work and special reporting, and his articles have always found ready and eager market in all the St. Louis and Memphis papers, and in many others throughout the south and southwest.

to know George Moore, and he has written for System, Saturday Evening Post, Holland's and other magazines of note, on subjects of widely diversified nature, entailing keen research, hard work, and a ready grasp of things, but never has he been found wanting.

As poet and philosopher only his intimate friends have met him, but to them he has ever been a constant source of revelation and a beautiful oasis of originality in both thought and expression. Unostentatious absolutely, yet with an intellect which bade fair to eclipse that of any living writer, even at this early stage of his career. It is with a sigh unutterable that we turn from the soul beneath which his body so peacefully rests, and how our heads with his to the will of God who doeth all things
